Class History

Our barque left port in September, 1941, for a twelve year cruise. The first year there were three passengers. They were Lucy Atherton, Audrey Cook, and LaDonna Garner, with Mrs. Mary Price as our coxswain. In the second year, under the same command, we picked up supplies and a passenger, Thomas Clemons, from Salyersville, Kentucky.

The third year we acquired a new coxswain, Mrs. Malcolm. There were no changes made in passengers this year. However, in the fourth year, Marvin Wheeler joined our expedition and Mrs. Willis became coxswain.

We came back to shore in our fifth year to repair our canoe and make it larger as we were to take on two more passengers, Nancy Lee Gahring from Norwalk and Elden Eastman. We changed coxswains, this time acquiring a man, Mr. W. B. Smith, to whom we delighted giving anything from fruit to nuts.

Getting short on our supplies in our sixth year, we decided to head for shore where awaited not only supplies, but another coxswain, Mr. Ben Saunders. We loaded up enough supplies for four years and shoved off. Someone would have to forget something; so, after a year, we found shore and took on a new advisor. The seven of us stayed together and did our own rowing with the help of Mr. Lyle Myers who, at the end of the year, transferred command to Mrs. Emil Fernandez.

In the middle of the ninth year of our voyage, we were looking about for some nice place to dock. In the distance we saw something waving frantically, so we decided to row over to it. What was it? Why, Cynthia Jones, from Windsor, Ohio. She was looking for someone to take her out for a ride in a boat. Needless to say, we took her on with us and finished the year out by having a picnic and riding the roller coaster at Euclid Beach.

We had so many different instructors that we will not try to mention their names, but we do want to thank them for the good job they did in helping us get through our years of study.

In our tenth year of sea duty, we added two more passengers to our eight -- Mildred Cole from New Haven and Anthony Predieri from Greenwich.

In the eleventh year of our voyage we again changed advisors, securing this time Mr. Frank Ciavarra. We did some historical exploring that year. We visited the Olentangy Caverns at Delaware and the Harding Memorial at Marion.

At last we were in our twelfth year and had two more passengers -- Ruth Sheets from Attica and Hannelore Neldert, an exchange student from Bremen, Germany, whom we were happy to have with us. Finally, we came to our destination in 1953 with a grand total of an even dozen -- twelve surviving passengers. With our advisor, Mr. Richard Flint, we extended a big farewell to all those who had helped us in any way to stay together and who guided us through our twelve years. Although some of the days were stormy, they all proved to be happy ones.

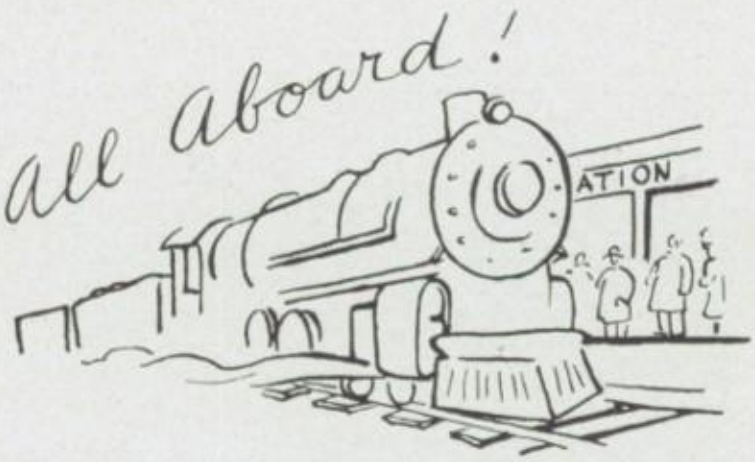
Class Prophecy



It has been ten years since that senior graduation in 1953 and what changes those years have brought! Things certainly changed for me very quickly, for, soon after graduation I joined the Waves, was stationed at Great Lakes, Illinois, and in time was sent to San Diego. Now I am a recruiting officer and travel all over the United States.

How fortunate this is for me for I have an opportunity to see so many of the old gang. For instance, I saw La Donna Garner the other day in Hollywood. She is a movie star now; and, although in Hollywood while making pictures, she lives on her million dollar ranch in Texas. Yes, she finally married her millionaire after all the flirting she did in her four years of college.

While stationed in Wyoming, I saw Tony Predieri who has a nice ranch located in one of the valleys. The only thing he didn't like was that he took over his dad's job and had to drive the mail truck over the mountains -- which was very hard. He is very happily married.

As I went through San Francisco, I stopped to see Lucy Atherton who is a housekeeper for Farley Granger. She isn't married yet, but from what she said, it won't be long.

Then, while stationed in Washington, D. C., I saw Thomas Clemons who is a research scientist in the War Department laboratories. He almost has the formula completed for a U-U Bomb. He's married now and has four children.

I also saw another of our classmates there -- Ruth Sheets. She is secretary for Elite Toothpicke, Inc. and is doing very well, especially with her boss! Her pride and joy is a new red convertible. Wouldn't mind having one myself someday.

While in Boston on an assignment, I saw Nancy Gahring. She owns a large bakery there called "THE MOON" Some of her customers say she really can bake. Of course, we already knew that -- especially after she baked those Alaska Pies for us during her high school year.

In New York City I found Cynthia Jones who is what she wanted to be -- a Dental Hygienist. She said she didn't know how people got such molars in their mouths. She is married to a wealthy New Yorker and is very happy.

At present I am stationed at Norwalk and have seen Red Eastman who is working at the Shelby Air Depot. He says that he has to work hard now that he has six children.

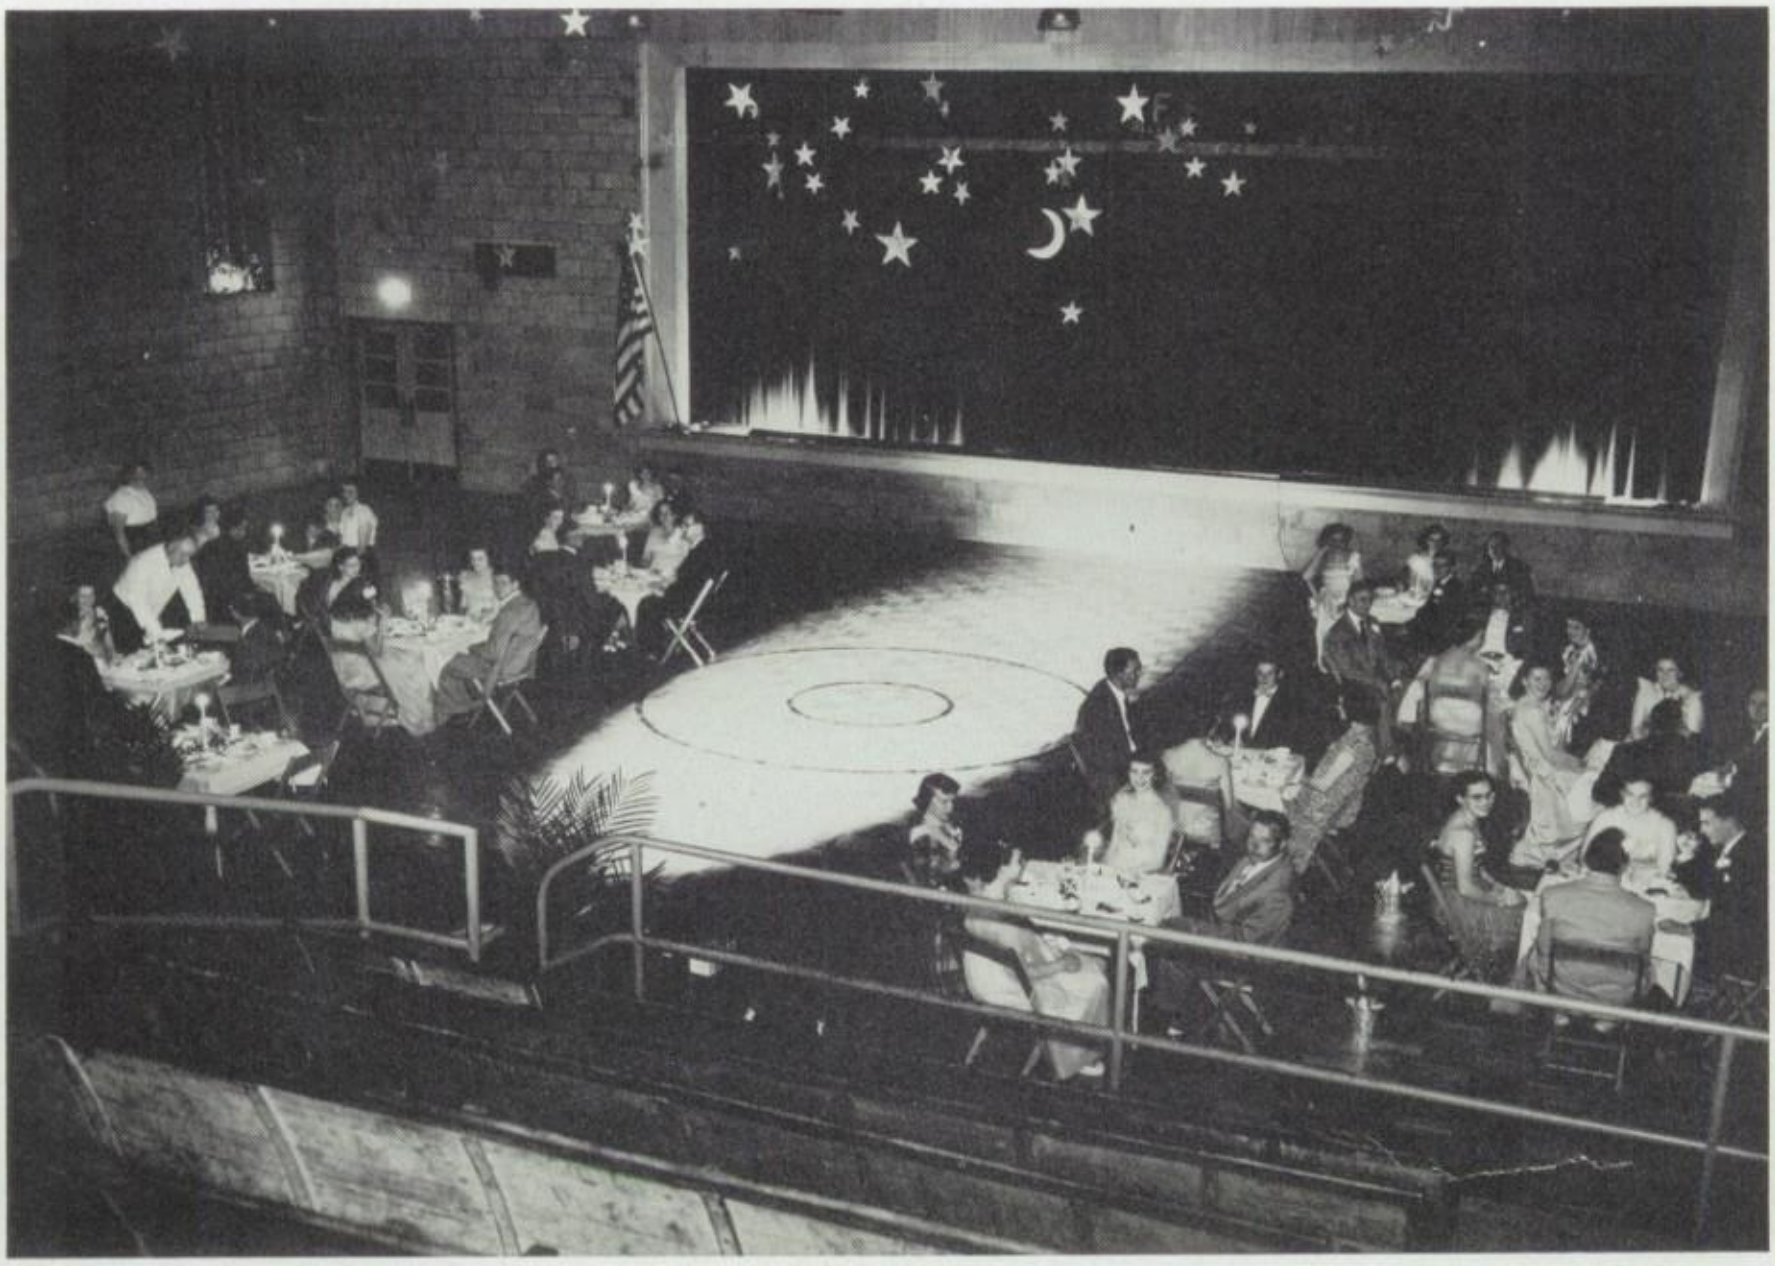
Red was saying that Marvin Wheeler owns all the land on the Ridge Road. Shirley, his wife, rides around in a new Cadillac while Marvin still rides his motorcycle -- now and then letting their three children ride with him.

Audrey Cook is living at Fremont. She is happily married to Arden, with whom she went during her junior and senior years. She lives in a colonial - type house and has two sets of twins. I guess she is plenty busy. She tells me she is planning to move to Wisconsin soon to a dairy farm.

I haven't seen Hannelore Neldert, but Cynthia gets letters from her and she said she is an interpreter in Bremen, Germany. I am going to Europe after I leave here and hope to have an opportunity to see her.

All this has taken place in ten years; WONDER WHAT THE NEXT TEN YEARS OF OUR LIVES ARE GOING TO BE LIKE?

Festival Dance



"Club 52"

"Club 52" opened at 7:00 p.m., at which time the doorman, Roger Sweeting, admitted us into the lobby which was decorated with potted palms. The hat check girl, Julia Wheeler, relieved us of our wraps. We were then ushered to our tables by "Singing Waiter" Kenneth Westerman. The small tables, decorated with candles and figurines, were placed in semicircles around the dance floor.

The dinner, prepared by the P. T. A., was served by the sophomore girls, who wore white blouses and dark skirts. During the program, cigarette girls, Ann Leak and Sandy Sanders, sold candy.

Fall Play

Uncle Fred Flits By

Scene from Play

The play began with Pongo Twistleton getting a telegram from his Uncle Fred telling him that his uncle was on his way to town. After his arrival, Uncle Fred insisted on taking Pongo to Mitching Hill, a suburb; as it started to rain, he calmly pushed into the nearest home and took over.

It was in this home where they met a beautiful girl, Julia Parker, with whom Pongo fell in love at first sight. Pongo was forced to pretend he was a veterinarian in order to account for his being in the house. This was extremely difficult inasmuch as he was studying to be a lawyer. Julia's suitor arrived, followed shortly by her parents. Uncle Fred happily involved them all deeper in his plot. To complicate things even more, Judge Basher, the owner of the house, arrived on the scene. From there on, things got worse for poor Pongo until Julia came to his rescue. They became engaged and, at the end of the play, Julia and Pongo were leaving on a steamer for South America. This was what Uncle Fred had planned all the time!

The Junior Class of 1952 was composed of seventeen members -- ten girls and seven boys.

On the fifteenth of September we received our class rings with which the class was very pleased and proud.

At our first class meeting on September 16, 1952, the following officers were elected;

President	Eugene Sands
Vice President	Larry Brown
Secretary	Shirley Signs
Treasurer	Barbara Chandler
Student Council Rep.	Julia Sweeting

The class sold refreshments at all home baseball and basketball games. Also, we undertook the job of selling candy, gum, and potato chips at noon. Both these projects helped considerably to expand our treasury.

On March 27 we sponsored a play, details of which will be given in next year's annual.

We wish to thank Mrs. Woodworth, our class sponsor, and all the other teachers who have made our Junior year a pleasant one.

Spring Play

The Young Imp

Cast and Director, Mrs. Woodworth

The story took place in the apartment of Armanda and Nettie Tilton who were confirmed man-haters. Tommy Ross, who had successfully impersonated the part of a girl in a college play decided to repeat his successful female impersonation in order to win a wager with Ned Page, the Tilton's nephew, that he could get into the Tilton apartment without being detected. So, disguised as Joyce Gallup, Tommy is brought to the Tilton apartment by his fiance, Myrtle Heartsease, who is also in on the secret. Tommy had no idea that he would get into the many predicaments which developed after his arrival.

Armanda was worse than Nettie and she continually smothered any thought of romance that Nettie had. Nettie had a romance in her long-ago past which was shattered through Armanda's interference, but time had not completely extinguished the spark in Nettie's heart. The old flame turned up again -- it was Tommy's father, Jonathan Ross, who was now a widower. When Nettie saw him, the spark was kindled into flame.

Armanda did not remain steadfast in her hatred of men. She became ensnared in the wiles of a smooth-tongued crook who was posing as a missionary worker. Armanda fell for him with a bang. However, she was doomed for a dreadful disappointment when her beloved Brother Wheeler was exposed.

Everything turned out fine for everyone but poor Armanda who ended up hating men more than she did before.

Membership is confined to three seniors, three juniors, two sophomores, two freshmen, one eighth grader and one seventh grader. Meetings, which are scheduled for the activity period on Tuesdays, are held several times a month.

The work of the Council is to cooperate with the faculty in an effort to make our school more efficient and harmonious for students and teachers. The members serve in an advisory capacity to carry out these ends. Discussion of general school problems is the usual order of business.

The Council helps in setting up the school calendar and each year sponsors a Home-Coming Dance in conjunction with the Alumni basketball game. Another project of the Student Council is the operation of the Coca-Cola machine, which pays the rental fee for the auditorium chairs and helps finance school assemblies. Some of the special assemblies sponsored by the Student Council were the Highway Patrol on October 24, Leeston Magic Show on November 4, and Larry Tetzloff's Animal Show on November 26.

This year we again gave the "Golden Age Group" banquet, which was held October 10 at the Home Economics Cottage.

At the first part of the school year the F. F. A. treated us to a fish fry at Conger's Grove.

On December 22 we had a pot luck supper for the F.F.A. at which time we exchanged our secret sister gifts. Each girl also brought a trinket, such as a car, balloon, etc., which was given to the boys.

Our project for this year was to redecorate the Home Economics Cottage.

We were especially proud of the fact that we won the county Parliamentary Procedure contest held at our school in January.

THIRD ROW: Margaret Seidel, Donna Phillips, Carol Morrow, Karen Burras, Patty Humphrey, Barbara Bordner, Bertha Jean Deruy, Kathleen McNutt, Lois Garner.

Under the direction of Mr. Kohli we had a very active year. We entertained the teachers at the Huron County Teachers Meeting held Sept. 25, 1952. For the first time in a number of years we put on a floor demonstration at eight games. On March 13, 1953, the band attended the Huron County Festival at New London. For Commencement Exercises on May 22, we presented a couple of numbers.

Chorus

Our high school chorus sang a number of carols at the P. T. A. Christmas Program. We enjoyed ourselves very much in preparing for the Huron County Festival which we attended at New London, on March 13. Our activities for the year were concluded by presenting two numbers at the Baccalaureate services held Sunday, May 17.

Homecoming

Margaret Seidel, Attendant; Shirley Signs, Queen; Barbara Chandler, Attendant.

The Homecoming of 1952-1953 was held in the school gymnasium on December 27th, 1952. Every year at this event, the alumni tries to prove to the high school boys that they haven't "Lost their touch"; while the boys seek to establish the fact that the alumni's "hay day" is over. The two viewpoints are expressed in a very hotly-contested game of basketball.

Shirley Signs, who was chosen by the basketball team to reign as Queen over the occasion, had as her attendants Margaret Seidel and Barbara Chandler. The crowning took place between the varsity and reserve games.

Shirley was lovely in a salmon-pink formal of ballerina length. The gown had a net stole, and she wore black opera pumps to offset the pink. Marvin Wheeler, captain of the team, escorted her and placed the silver crown decorated with tinsel upon her head.

Barbara's emerald-green formal offset her chesnut hair to the best advantage as she was escorted onto the floor by Tom Clemons. Her formal was also ballerina length, with a net stole over a strapless bodice. She wore brown opera pumps. A powder-blue, full-length formal was Margaret's choice. The net in front was drawn up in a very becoming apron effect, and she wore a stole over the strapless bodice. Elden Eastman was her escort. The ceremony preluded an exciting game in which the varsity beat the alumni by a score of 44 to 40.

The team was very successful in winning all the fall games. The spring games have yet to come. We hope they will be just as successful.
